2020 Annual Report

Executive Summary

Welcome to The CCDO 2020 Annual Report

2020 was a precious and fraught year to remember with many challenges and changes. We had initiated a few new sub-programs to adjust to the changes of the current Covid-19 situation to match with government's vision and mission to make sure that our beneficiaries received the right help at the right time.

Under the supervision of a great leader and skillful team members, The CCDO now has successfully run four core programs: WASH (Water, Sanitation and Hygiene), Education, Health & Wellbeing, and Social Enterprise.

WASH: We had built a large number of water wells and we committed to maintaining our existing wells which are not functioning. On top of that, we also build many more latrines to promote effective defecation and best sanitation and hygiene practices at our target area at Angkor Thom district, Banteay Srey District, and Brasat Bakong District. Moreover, The CCDO had built houses for the poor villagers in Angkor Thom district, Siem Reap Province.

Education: We had four sub-programs in our Education program: informal education (English, computer, and library), Early Childhood Education (ECE), Scholarship Program, and Improving English Teaching Quality. We partner with 19 primary schools at Angkor Thom District, 41 primary schools at Prasat Bakong, and 20 community pre-school at Leangdai commune, Angkor Thom District, Siem Reap Province.

Health & Wellbeing : the children need specific health checks up as well as their daily nutrition breakfast. We had regular check up on the student at our target school area by the graduated nurse from Angkor University. Moreover, we regularly had our dental care workshop conduct monthly. During the Covid-19 pandemic, we also run campaigns to spread awareness of Covid-19 as well as contribute soap bars, facial masks, and hand sanitizer.

Social Enterprise: Gives families the opportunity to increase their economic security and ensures sustainability for the area. So far we have two working programs, namely the piglet project where families are given two pigs for breeding and the subsequent sale of the litters, and the soap program in partnership with Eco Soap Bank, where women get to sell recycled soap. To date, 20 families, benefit from our piglet program and 8 women started a successful business selling soap. Thanks to the success of this program, we are now looking to extend this program in other communities.

WASH PROGRAM

I. INTRODUCTION

Lack of water and sanitation is one of the biggest issues affecting the health of children in this country, especially those who live in the countryside. The report also states that 60% of Cambodians had no access to safe water; the consequences are severe as high occurrences of waterborne diseases lead to an estimated 10,000 overall deaths annually. In light of the above, the CCDO realized that more must be done and so implemented the WASH (Water Sanitation and Hygiene Program) to improve WASH conditions in the communities.

II. ACHIEVEMENT

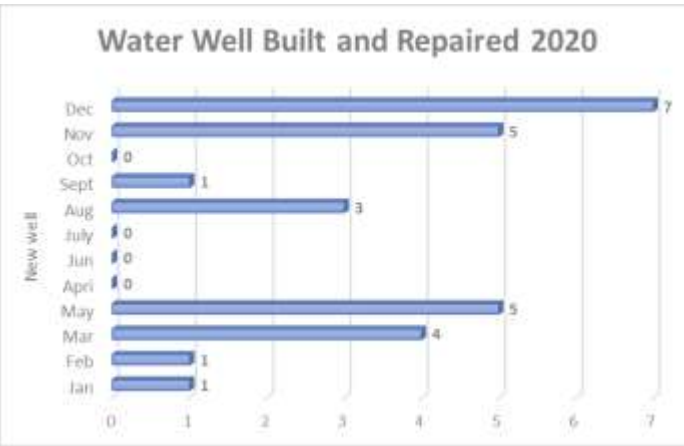

From February to December 2020, 103 latrines were built, and the program established the 103 latrines in 3 communes, Svay Chek and Leangdai of Angkor Thom district, and Preahdak commune of Banteaysrei district. 103 households direct benefited from the latrines and shared with 309 families who live close in approximately 515 people benefit from it.

CCDO is walking alongside the ministry of rural development in Cambodia to get free of open defecation (ODF) in every village. We strongly hope that Cambodia will get ODF in the whole country in 2030.

January to December 2020, CCDO have been built twenty-seven (27) water wells and nine (9) repair wells in 4 communes, Leangdai, Svay Chek, Lovea and Preahdark of 3 districts, Pouk, Angkor Thom and Banteay Srei, Siem Reap Province. At least 81 families benefited from these water wells. Consisting of 405 people include children and adult.

I. INFORMAL EDUCATION PROJECT

For almost 10 years The CCDO has to launch informal education in a government school in the Ampil community. There are 3 government school partners with the program and the total amount of students is 1000 and divided into 6 different levels according to the student ability. Our informal education includes English class, computer class, and the library. The program aims to build the English proficiency of the students to be ready for high school.

II. EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION PROJECT

There is a staggering lack of preschools in Cambodia, especially in rural areas, meaning many children are deprived of a critical educational jump start. Less than 20 % of children between the ages of three to five have access to early childhood development opportunities such as community preschools, state preschools, and home-based education programs.

To support the community pre-school in the rural area The CCDO has launched the ECE project to improve the quality of teaching early childhood education (ECE) and the healthy lifestyle of the preschool students in communities of Siem Reap province. It will focus on the capacity building of preschool teachers and improving the nutrition status of students to ensure they have a quality of life. The project has three main objectives that align with the activities that will benefit the project's main goal:

- Improve the capacity building of preschool teachers in both English and Khmer language.
- Increase professional development of novice teachers and collaboration/educational professionalism amongst teachers.
- Improve a better nutritional and wellbeing of school students

Currently, the CCDO has support 13 community pre-school with a total of 13 pre-school teachers join the training and 350 school children benefit from this program in Ampil and Leang Dai commune, Angkor Thom District, Siem Reap, CAMBODIA.

III. IMPROVING ENGLISH TEACHING QUALITY PROJECT

In Cambodia, the English curriculum in Primary school has just started in the last few years. As such, the low levels of students' capacity of learning and using the English language are negatively affected by the lack of qualified English teachers, which in turn affects the ability of future generations in the country to learn and use the English language effectively. In order to respond to this gap, the CCDO has developed and implemented an Improving English Teaching Quality program to help to develop the proficiency of the government English teachers in Angkor Thom District, Siem Reap, Cambodia. As a part of our activities, the CCDO also has developed and distributed the teacher teaching manuals to teachers in 507 primary schools in a province. We have also implemented a testing system with the baseline and the end line to measure the teachers' progress over the courses of the school year.

There are 25 school teachers from 19 primary schools had successfully graduated from our training program with a total of 850 students are benefiting from them. Now, the government bought this project to implement in another area with the second batch with 54 primary school English teachers.

IV. SCHOLARSHIP PROJECT

Many rural poor Children are not able to get higher education due to poverty and lack of educator model in the community.

CCDO is trying to help them to achieve their dream by supporting them from the secondary school until university. There are 48 scholarship students in the scholarship program for the academic year 2020. 26 students are currently studying at University and 26 students are in high school.

11 out of 26 university students are studying business administration field, 1 studying nursing degree and the rest in engineering, chemistry, biology, environment, food chemistry, and English literature. We are so proud of them and they will back to serve their community in the next few years.

HEALTH & WELLBEING PROGRAM

I. COVID 19 PROJECT

Under a grant by TEXEL Foundation, the CCDO worked to cope with the spreading new virus (Coronavirus, Covid-19) by running an awareness campaign for people who lack access the information in the rural in the country, distributed masks, and gel/hand sanitizer. We reached the following results:

- 80,000 face masks
- 70,000 bars of soap
- 700 Litres of Gel/hand sanitizer
- 20,000 COVID 19 leaflets

- Over 500,000 people in the rural reach the messages of COVID 19

II. DENTAL CARE PROJECT

Many children in Cambodia suffer from a lack of basic hygiene and dental care. Schools rarely teach children oral hygiene and as a result, many children from a young age begin to have dental problems such as tooth decay, gingivitis, and pain in their teeth. Furthermore, the prospect of treating dental issues once they emerge is very dire, with 95% of children with dental problems receiving no treatment. 59% of youth in Cambodia also report never having received oral care.

The youngest children are often plagued with poor dental status with the average child in Cambodia suffering from nine decayed teeth. Most of these children who develop this issue do so by the age of 6. Many factors contribute to this problem, but a couple of root causes can be attributed. Most children do not start brushing their teeth until they get to school. The weaning foods in Cambodia also tend to have a lot of sugar in their diet, which coupled with the fact that children often don't practice dental care until school age, a lot of young children tend to enter school with a growing number of dental problems already.

CCDO established a dental care program to take care of their teeth by providing dental education on how to clean the teeth and delivered brushes & toothpaste and establish brushing teeth washing station at school in order to ensure everyone brushes their teeth. We also collaborated with local health university to send the medical student to dental screening and physical examination and send any kids has teeth problem to the dentist. This project was subsidized with 40% of the government budget. We have reached 32 primary schools with over 8000 school children.

III. BREAKFAST PROJECT

Malnutrition affects almost half of all Cambodian children under the age of five. It is caused by the inability to afford nutritious food, high rates of infectious disease, and inappropriate feeding practices.

Most of the Cambodian children go to school with an empty stomach. It leads to a loss of concentrate on learning and a big major of the dropout rate and slow learning in the country. CCDO is fulfilled to help them by providing a healthy breakfast for 6 days a week with nutritional foods. We are so proud of the outcomes so far in which there isn't any kid under malnourished. Over the school year 2019-2020, we have supported 1800 students with 161,112 meals.

School's Name	# of meal served pre-school children	# of meal served primary school children	# of meal served secondary school children	Grand Total

SOCIAL ENTERPRISE PROGRAM

I. RICE SEEDS PROJECT

Since the COVID-19 pandemic in Cambodia on 29 January 2020, all economic sectors are affected. Schools, restaurants, hotels, markets, manufacturing exports, construction and any socialize events and ceremonies are closed and restricted. Many Cambodians lost their jobs. Some of them still work but their salaries are being cut or decreased. Most of them go back from town and other countries to their home town and homeland to grow some crops and rice in order to keep social distance and stay away from COVID-19 While Covid-19 season.

The CCDO created a new project to deduct poverty in rural areas by delivering rice seed to 250 poor beneficiaries for cultivating in the rainy season.

II. PIGLET PROJECT

We have set up a piglet project to help poor women in the villages since 2018. The pandemic COVID 19 was killed many thousand people's incomes. Our 180 piglet families were quite lucky that those mummy pigs give birth and the family could sell them in the market to generate income.

Some of them (40 families) were killed by swine flu last 8 months ago. CCDO tried to help by replacing new piglet for them where I took for other families as an agreement that each family needs to give 3 times of each delivery (2 piglets /birth).

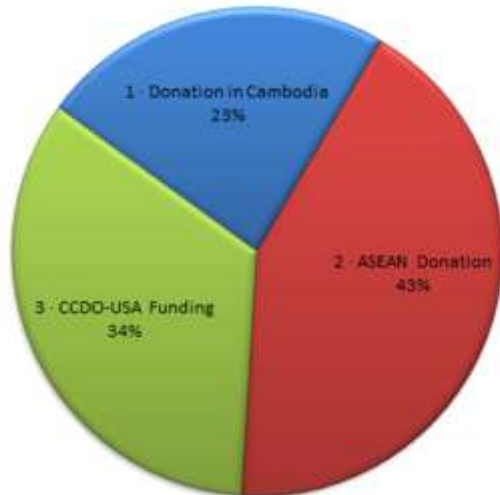

As COVID 19, CCDO found that people who live in the rural community are so challenges with funds for survival. Therefore, we decided not to take piglets from them so that they can sell them and feed their family especially support their kids going to school.
